

Live on the Go offers free online ordering September 26, 2007

A few weeks ago, I turned to Costa Mesa-based LiveOnTheGo.com when I couldn't get out of the house to grab a meal. The fridge was empty, my daughter was sick and my husband was at work.

I needed delivery in a bad way. But, I wanted more choices than just pizza.

As it turns out, Live on the Go gives you just that. The Web-based service, which launched last month, is a one-stop online ordering system featuring more than a 120 restaurants in Orange County. Just pick a restaurant and order for pickup or delivery.

Catch: Not all places deliver. But, you'll be surprised by some of the eateries that do bring the food right to your door. Folks with Web-enabled mobile phones can also use the free service.

This concept falls into the super-duper convenient food category, which makes the Maven a happy gal. I ended getting some tasty pastas from an independent Italian restaurant in Tustin. The food was promised within 45 minutes, and I got it in 44 minutes.

Check it out, and let me know what you think.

Some of the participating restaurants include Alessio in Laguna Niguel, Avanti Café in Costa Mesa, Brio in Dana Point, Café Jardin in Corona Del Mar, Carolina's in Garden Grove, El Ranchito in Lake Forest, Harp Inn in Costa Mesa, Lenny's Pizza & Pasta in Tustin, Lil' Pickle in Costa Mesa, Mama D's Italian Kitchen in Newport Beach, Meejana in Orange, Tradition by Pascal in Newport Beach.
